Introduction

The Finance Club of The Oxford College of Business Management organized an engaging session titled “GST 2.0 – The Great Slab Shuffle” on 12th September 2025. The session was designed to enhance students’ understanding of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) and the recent updates under GST 2.0. With India witnessing major restructuring in the GST framework, this activity provided a platform for MBA students to learn in a fun and interactive manner.

Description

The activity involved a lively presentation and discussion led by Dr. Veto Dey, who explained the major slab changes and their implications for businesses and consumers. Instead of a traditional lecture, the Finance Club introduced an innovative “slab shuffle game”, where participants had to match goods and services with their correct revised GST slabs. The game encouraged students to think critically, apply theoretical knowledge, and engage in collaborative problem-solving.

The interactive format generated enthusiastic participation from the audience. Students not only gained clarity on the new tax slabs but also understood the broader economic objectives behind GST reforms. The event combined learning with fun, breaking the monotony of conventional classroom teaching.

Conclusion

The GST Slab Shuffle proved to be a highly successful and impactful event. It achieved its goal of deepening students’ knowledge of GST while fostering teamwork and analytical thinking. Such innovative initiatives by the Finance Club ensure that students stay updated with financial reforms while also developing practical skills. Overall, the event was a blend of learning, interaction, and entertainment—making taxation concepts more approachable for budding managers
